The heart of "Holland" lake district hosts one of the most beautiful sailing locations in the Netherlands. Just 30 minutes south of Amsterdam, north of the Hague, almost attached to the beautiful city of Leiden, you will find the "Kagerplassen". Here water and wind separates the real sailors from the rest. Each change of wind, the course changes shape. Small "polders" with authentic Dutch windmills are decor to the sailing courses.

How "Dutch" do you need it to be?

As a sea faring nation, our merchant and navy ships sailed the world. From all over the world goods and spices came to the Dutch ports.

What was brought to our tiny flat and wet country was the fine cuisine of the Dutch East Indies. The "cheese-heads" loved this and made it their cultural own.

The Indonesian dishes are the "every Sunday traditional menu" on Dutch Navy ships ever since.

Last year we introduced this very succesfully on our Easter Sunday Buffet.

We love to invite you again to create our own Easter Regatta tradition.
